TABLES AND SMALL TABLES | Indoor
HANNES PEER

The sculptural essence of the Loom table stems from the interplay between Hannes Peer's refined design and the harmonious union of glass and metal, which respectively form the table's top and base. The interlocking effect of the legs rises to support the transparent top, which acts both as a filter and as an enhancer of the architectural texture of the blades below. Abstract and geometric shapes convey the deliberate intention to give an original perceptual perspective, made even more exquisite by the unique shades of glass created using the ancient technique of glass fusing. The table represents a mix of functionality and artistic appeal, capturing the imagination and providing an immersive experience for all those fortunate enough to experience it.
